

PROJECT DESCRIPTION (WKKF)

COVID-19 Relief for Immigrant Communities in New Mexico

Purpose & Grant Period:

Con Alma Health Foundation, the state's largest private foundation dedicated solely to health, was awarded a $500,000 grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation (WKKF) to establish and manage a fund providing direct assistance to New Mexicans who are immigrants, affected by the COVID-19 pandemic, but unable to access federal and state relief; and to create awareness about the structural barriers to their well-being. Grant Period: June 1, 2020 – December 31, 2020; Grant Amount: $500,000

Outcomes:

1. The development and implementation of a fund aimed at providing direct assistance to New Mexicans who are immigrants, affected by the COVID-19 pandemic, but unable to access federal and state relief.
2. An increased awareness about the structural barriers to the well-being of immigrants and the immigrant community in New Mexico.
3. An increased capacity of stakeholders to mobilize and advocate for the immigrant community, especially children and families in New Mexico.

Background:

New Mexico is a place of great physical beauty, deep diversity, proud cultural traditions and community-based values; however, structural inequities have made it susceptible to the COVID-19 pandemic. Although rich in culture and diversity, our state is poor in resources and our systems were fragile to begin with and are made worse by or are a specific result of COVID-19.

The project's focus is immigrant communities in NM which have been disproportionately impacted by COVID-19 due largely to structural inequities and are unable to access federal and state relief. Immigrants also are disproportionately represented in essential frontline industries yet do not receive essential benefits, which directly impacts their ability to take care of their children and families.

The COVID-19 crisis underscores that New Mexico's immigrant populations are being disproportionately affected as a result of unequal economic and social conditions. The COVID-19 Relief for Immigrant Communities in New Mexico Fund will award grants to eligible organizations to address both short-term needs and strategies towards an equitable recovery.
